Seaside Staffing Company started in 2004 as a boutique nanny agency called Seaside Nannies®, serving the San Diego community. Since then, Seaside has expanded to serve a variety of household staffing needs throughout Southern California. As an established, full service domestic staffing agency, Seaside Staffing's mission is to provide personalized service unlike that of any other agency in the area.

Dara B. Green , CEO/Founder

Originally from upstate New York, Dara has been working in the domestic arena for over 30 years. Her extensive hands-on experience within the field of service combined with her education and genuine compassion for others, has put her at the top of the domestic staffing field in Southern California.

Dara's insight into the service industry comes from her experiences waiting tables, working as a nanny, as well as teaching preschool (she holds a Bachelor of Arts in English Literature with a minor in Early Childhood Education). This range of experiences gives her unique insight into the needs of household management. When she was a teacher, she found that students' parents continuously recruited her to work with their children and oversee multiple facets of household duties.

Seeing that her opinion was valued and wanting to accommodate each family's unique needs, Dara opened Seaside Nannies as a resource for connecting families to other childcare providers.

While operating and expanding Seaside over the past many years, Dara's knowledge base has grown -- she has become California's go-to for successful staffing and recruiting in the entire domestic arena.

Fast forward to over a decade later and Seaside staffing company has been taking care of Southern California's households with all of their domestic staffing needs. Domestic services include placement of nannies, estate level housekeepers, chefs, house managers and personal assistants. Seaside's philosophy, personal approach and commitment to service, have led to thousands of successful placements in all facets of the domestic arena, establishing Seaside Staffing Company as the most reliable source for finding in-home care in Southern California. The Seaside team is known to go above and beyond industry standards with honesty and integrity as each candidate is a direct reflection of their core values. The professional matchmaking skills have made them experts in their field. Their offices in San Diego, Orange County and Los Angeles are always available for support before, during and after the process.

Seaside Staffing Company assists in creating harmonious households by helping connect the community with candidates of the highest caliber using a personalized approach. The key to successfully connecting families with their household staff is our discreet and extensive interview process for both clients and candidates.

In-home visits assure clients that Seaside will only send only the most qualified candidates. This also reassures candidates that they are entering a safe environment. Seaside Staffing Company interviews, performs background screenings and checks all appropriate references for each candidate.
